Carol Galante, Symphony House Win Big at the 2008 Multifamily Executive and Developer Awards

Washington, DC, October 23, 2008—Carol J. Galante, President and CEO of BRIDGE Housing Corp., was named Executive of the Year at the 2008 Multifamily Executive and Developer Awards gala in Las Vegas. Galante was recognized for her outstanding leadership at the San Francisco-based firm, the largest affordable housing rental developer in California.

"Thanks to Carol, BRIDGE is on the cutting edge of quality affordable housing production that embraces innovative green building and operating practices, unprecedented public housing redevelopment efforts, and a political and public housing outreach machine second to none," said Shabnam Mogharabi, editor-in-chief of MULTIFAMILY EXECUTIVE and DEVELOPER magazines. "We are thrilled to present her with this award."

Galante's honor was among the more than 40 awards presented at the event to recognize exceptional projects and programs across 18 categories. The 2008 awards included a new one—DEVELOPER magazine's first annual Sustainable Community of the Year Award. That honor went to Kalakaua Community in Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, submitted by Actus Lend Lease. Fort Drum Mountain Community Homes, also an Actus Lend Lease project, received a merit.

"This new category recognizes sites that demonstrate the use of sustainable principles in terms of land use, zoning and planning, as well as in the use of materials and the development process," Mogharabi said.

The editors of MULTIFAMILY EXECUTIVE and DEVELOPER magazines also unveiled the second annual Editors' Choice Award, which recognizes a project that is "best in show." That honor went to Symphony House in downtown Philadelphia, submitted by Dranoff Properties. The innovative project also received the Grand Award for Project of the Year: High-Rise.

Other multiple winners included Actus Lend Lease; Columbia Residential; Crosland; GRECO Development; James, Harwick + Partners; MacFarlane Costa Housing Partners; and Riverstone Residential Group.

This year's winners were chosen by a group of industry judges: Greg Bonifield, a partner of Woodfield Investments in Ashburn, Va.; Eileen Lee, vice president of environment at the National Multi Housing Council in Washington, D.C.; Grace Sawin, a senior project manager at Rippeteau Architects in Washington, D.C.; Julie Smith, president of Bozzuto Management Co. in Greenbelt, Md.; Christina Steeg, senior vice president of marketing and training at Simpson Housing in Denver; Dave Woodward, CEO and managing partner of Laramar Communities in Greenwood Village, Colo.; and the editors of MULTIFAMILY EXECUTIVE and DEVELOPER magazines: John McManus, Shabnam Mogharabi, Rachel Z. Azoff, and Les Shaver.

For more information on Executive of the Year Carol Galante, please see the October 2008 issue of MULTIFAMILY EXECUTIVE, which is available online at www.multifamilyexecutive.com. All other winners can be seen in the pages of the November 2008 issue of MFE and the November/December 2008 issue of DEVELOPER.
